For the Advancement of Women

The third national conference of the Canada Research Institute for the Advancement of Women (CRIAW) will be held 9-11 November at the Chateau Lacombe in Edmonton.

The theme of the conference, "Women as Persons," commemorates the 50th anniversary of the Persons Case, when Canadian women were finally declared "persons" in the eyes of the law. Conference coordinator, Dr. Ann Hall, explains that the conference will be cross-disciplinary, focussing on feminist research designed to advance the status of women and add to the quality of their lives. "We will be examining such questions as how we as women can achieve personhood; how we gain access to the power to accomplish that which is important to us both individually and collectively." Dr. Hall said that the conference will address a wide cross-section of women, and will focus on such topics as problems of the divorced mother; theology and personhood; women and wage inequality; minority women and liberation; career choice; the political fate of women in Canada, and psychology and personhood.

The conference will include presentations by individuals across Canada actively engaged in research on women's experience as well as ample opportunity for audience participation and discussion. CRIAW is a non-profit, membership-based organization, founded to exchange, coordinate, and document research into women's experience.

The revised program for the CRIAW conference is as follows:

Registrar Appointed

William A. Blanchard, currently Associate Dean of the Faculty of Arts, has received the appointment of Registrar of the University. Dr. Blanchard will officially take office on 1 January 1980. He will succeed Lynn Morgan who has been serving as Acting Registrar since the retirement of A.D. Cairns in 1978. Mr. Morgan will return to the position of Associate Registrar.

Dr. Blanchard took his post-secondary education at San Francisco State College and the University of Oregon. He possesses BA, MA and PhD degrees and is Professor of Psychology. His career at this University commenced in 1961 and includes a term (1969-70) as Acting Chairman of the Department of Psychology.

Dr. Blanchard will be responsible for all admissions to the University, as well as the academic records of students. His office also oversees the timetabling of lectures and examinations.

Dr. Blanchard will sit on General Faculties Council, the Executive Committee of GFC, all Faculty Councils and the Deans' Council. □

Faculté Saint-Jean Enrolment Rises for 1979-80

Clothing reinforced at the elbows could come in handy for those attending or visiting Faculté Saint-Jean. This fall the Faculté experienced its highest ever enrolment and its physical space is being utilized to the nth degree. The Faculté's information office reports that two hundred and the forty-seven full-time students are enrolled, an increase of eighty-eight over the 1978-79 figure.

Most of the students are from Alberta while the other provinces represented are Quebec, Saskatchewan, British Columbia, Ontario, and New Brunswick. There are also two students from each of Lebanon, France, and Morocco. Of the 1979-80 enrolment, one hundred and twenty-three students are first-year students.

A fruitful post-secondary education in the French language is the primary goal of Faculté Saint-Jean students. This year, the BEd program has one hundred and twelve students, the BA program contains ninety-six students, and the BSc program has attracted thirty-one students. Eight students are enrolled in various other programs and there are thirteen part-time students.

Regarding the education program, the Faculté says that the increase of forty-one students can largely be attributed to the comfortable situation where graduates are virtually guaranteed of jobs in Edmonton or almost anywhere they go.

According to the Faculté, Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower is desirous that the Faculté produce some sixty to eighty teachers each year to satisfy the demand for teachers of bilingual and immersion programs in the province.

Virtually all instruction at Faculté Saint-Jean is offered in French, the exceptions being a handful of English literature and science courses.

The largest classes this year will contain about forty people and three additional instructors have been hired to ease the workload. □

Emergency Housing Provided for Students

Ninety students took advantage of emergency housing provided by the Lister Hall complex.

The invitation to use accommodation at Lister Hall extended from 15 August to 15 September. The cost of the service was $5 per night and as Housing and Food Services director, Gail Brown, pointed out the charge was low because the service was dormitory style.

Students were housed in the Henday Party Room (fourteen beds for men), and the Kelsey "Ping Pong" Room (nine beds for women). To meet the demand for more space, an additional space was made available in the Henday bachelor rooms for men (eleven rooms) and in the Kelsey bachelor rooms for married couples and women (twenty-two rooms in total).

The length of stay at the complex ranged from one evening to two weeks. The actual use of service, however, did not commence until 21 August. According to Ms. Brown, use of the service by men students exceeded that of women by more than a two to one ratio.

Ms. Brown emphasized that there is need for emergency housing and the cost of providing such a service is not a great amount. She added that the complex also received twenty contracts from students using the service.

Most students using the service were first year freshmen and they arrived earlier than most students in order to find permanent housing.

Several changes will be seen in next year's service and Ms. Brown said one of the major changes will be the inclusion of accommodation for married couples. She added that the service received several requests from couples but that these couples were able to make arrangements on the same day as the requests were received. She hopes, however, that next year couple accommodation will be included in the service. There has also been a suggestion that the service charge be increased to $6 as there has not been an increase in the daily rate for several years. □

AUCC Protests CTV Broadcast

According to a communiqué issued by the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada on 5 October, the AUCC has charged that a recent CTV television program investigating the presence of foreign students in Canada contained many "distortions and inaccuracies."

The AUCC, therefore, has filed a strong protest with the president of CTV and with the producers of the "W5" series. The program in question was broadcast on Sunday, 30 September. In the program, it was claimed that "thousands of Canadians are being kept out of our universities by foreign students," for example, in disciplines such as engineering, pharmaceutical sciences, and computer science. "The program was built around a particular case which was entirely unfounded," stated Alan Earp, President of Brock University and current President of the AUCC.

According to the AUCC news release, a Canadian student, who did not gain admission to the University of Toronto's pharmacy program, was interviewed against a backdrop of Chinese students at that university. In fact, there was a meeting of the University of Toronto's Chinese Students' Association at the time of the interview. Within the interview, therefore, the implication was made that the student who was refused admission had been displaced by a foreign student. The implication was totally without foundation, for not one "visa" student has been admitted to the pharmacy faculty. The television program also implied that there are large numbers of "foreigners" in medicine at the University of Toronto. The fact is, however, that there are only two "visa" students in a class of 256.

According to the AUCC, much of the problem lies in a misunderstanding of the relevant legislation. According to current law, Landed Immigrants cannot be differentiated from Citizens for the purposes of university admission. Students on visas, however, fall into a separate category and they account for only about five percent of the total enrolment in Canadian universities.

"There are similar distortions and inaccuracies in other examples and figures used by W5," Dr. Earp claimed. "In the interests of fairness and accuracy, some correction is essential." Rather than hiding enrolment figures, as was alleged by the CTV program, the universities have made available detailed analysis of the admissions question, not only in a recent report issued by The University of Alberta Senate, but in an apparently more comprehensive report prepared by the Council of Ontario Universities titled Citizenship of Students and Faculty in Canadian Universities. □

Fall Health and Physical Fitness Program

The University of Alberta Faculty of Physical Education and Recreation's Department of Athletic Services is about to embark on its annual fall health and physical fitness program for non-academic staff and members of faculty. In past years this program, under the direction of Art Burgess, has been very popular and for the participants of any of the sessions most beneficial. Indeed, even President Horowitz participated last year—perhaps demonstrating thereby the value of "mens sana in corpore sano."

There are eight classes scheduled for the fall:

Early Bird Fitness

Not quite as mad as it seems, this brisk workout will help one approach the day's tasks alert and ready to go. Tuesdays and Fridays from 6:45 a.m. to 7:30 a.m. Began 16 October. Fee: $39.50.

Mid-Day Madness

The keynote of this class is efficiency inasmuch as it is fitted into the sixty minute lunch break. It provides a quick workout and still leaves time for a shower and a short snack. Tuesdays and Thursdays from 12:10 p.m. to 12:45 p.m. to 12:45 p.m. The class began on 16 October. Fee: $39.50.

The Happy Hoofers

This class offers a lunch-hour with a difference: musical exercises that, according to Mr. Burgess, delight while making one puff. Mondays and Wednesdays from 12:10 p.m. to 12:45 p.m. began 15 October. Fee: $39.50.

The Rush Hour Quickie

This class offers one the chance of avoiding rush-hour madness and arriving home fresh and sharp. It gives a quick aerobic workout and shower. Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4:45 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Began 16 October. Fee: $39.50.

Safe Jogging—The First Step

This class gives participants assistance in learning the safe way to jog. In this two-hour fitness information clinic, one can learn how to jog without pain, how to avoid stiffness, how much to jog, how often, when and where. The course will be held on Wednesday, 24 October, beginning at 4:45 p.m. The fee is $9.50.

Basic Weight Training

Another two-hour fitness information clinic, this class provides instruction in the basics of how weights are used to improve muscle tone and build strength. Use of the Universal weight training machines and free weights will be taught, along with a simple exercise to enable participants to gain the most benefit from the time spent in exercising. The clinic will be held on Monday, 22 October, beginning at 4:45 p.m. Fee: $9.50.

Do It Yourself

Do It Yourself is a two-hour clinic designed to teach one how to become fit and stay fit in your own home and neighborhood. The clinic will be held on Monday, 29 October, at 4:45 p.m. The fee will be $9.50.

Swim For Fitness

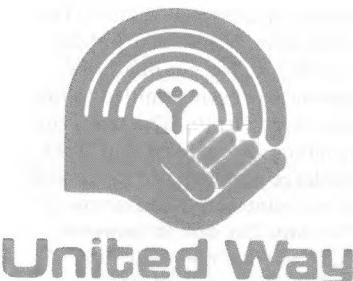

According to Mr. Burgess, swimming is the most complete physical activity for balanced fitness. The class, which will be held in two one-hour sessions, will instruct participants how to use a swimming pool to get an aerobic workout. Aquatic exercises, stroke variations, and training systems will be taught. This clinic does not offer swimming lessons. It is open to swimmers at a junior level or above. There will be a one-hour lecture on Tuesday, 23 October, at 4:45 p.m., which will be followed by a pool session on Thursday, 25 October, at 4:45 p.m. The fee for the clinic will be $9.50.

For information about all of the classes and clinics referred to above, please telephone Art Burgess at 435-5834. □

United Way Campaign 79

The 1979-80 United Way Campaign in the Edmonton area is well underway, with only about two weeks remaining. Forty-one service agencies in the Edmonton area will receive funds from the United Way during the coming year. These agencies will provide, to the city and all neighboring communities, services that range from handi-buses for handicapped children, to rehabilitation for the blind, and the services of the St. John Ambulance. This year's goal is $3,800,000; 86.3 percent of which will go directly to services in the community.

The Campaign has been particularly active here on campus. As of 4 October the Payroll Division has received $48,424.44 in pledges and $2,407.00 in cheques from academic and non-academic staff members. In the remaining weeks of the Campaign the United Way is looking forward to receiving more contributions from the campus community.

The United Way feels that it represents a good cause, and stresses its need for support so that it can meet the ever increasing demand for its valuable services. □

The Entry of Scholars to Canada

According to a joint news release issued on 5 October by the Social Science Federation of Canada and the Canadian Association of University Teachers in Ottawa, the new Minister for Employment and Immigration, Ron Atkey, has been told by university representatives that an independent review procedure must be established to study the cases of scholars denied entry to Canada on grounds of national security.

Roland Penner and Donald Savage of the CAUT and John Trent, Executive Director of the SSFC appeared before the Minister to seek an end to nearly two decades in which some twenty foreign academics have been refused visas initially only to have the greater part of such decisions reversed by the responsible minister after strong and protracted appeals by the scholarly community. The university delegation proposed that right of access by Canadian hosts to a standard, quasi-judicial review apparatus would be fairer to foreign applicants, whose careers can be damaged by unsubstantiated visa refusals. According to the SSFC/CAUT news release, the delegation believes that such a review apparatus could also provide the Minister with additional information and second opinions on difficult cases that are potentially embarrassing to Canada.

It was pointed out by the delegation that the proposal maintains the spirit of the Helsinki accord on the rights of the individual to which Canada is a signatory. That accord calls on states to encourage "among persons engaged in education and science direct contacts and communications." This is considered by the SSFC and CAUT to be especially necessary inasmuch as Canada offers itself as a host country for international scholarly conferences.

The academic representatives who appeared before the Hon. R. Atkey agreed to study the freedom of information legislation, soon to be presented by the Government of Canada, to see the extent to which that legislation might alleviate the current difficulties. The Minister and the university delegation will together study the Immigration Act to ascertain whether or not any of its mechanisms, in particular the Security Advisory Group, could serve as a review apparatus. At the Minister's invitation, further representations will be made by the CAUT and the SSFC. □

The Dental Museum of The University of Alberta has recently acquired a set of dental instruments consisting of a dental extraction "key" and handle with five separate claws, three forceps, a gum lancet in a tortoise shell guard, tweezers and an elevator all contained in a wooden case bound in natural leather edged with brass studs. These instruments were used in Europe by an itinerant dentist circa 1850.

Safety Expo '79

*Sponsored by:
Personnel Services,
Division of University
Occupational Health, Safety and Fire*

In addition to six University Safety Offices, there will be 25 display booths covering every aspect of health and safety. There will be pamphlets on all areas and several special services: TB tests, blood pressure tests, hearing tests, eye tests, and you'll get a chance to try the seat belt machine. This Expo is coordinated for the University community and this year we will also welcome the general public. Come and find out what services the U of A and your community have to offer.

Date: 30-31 October 1979
Place: Central Academic Building, U of A
Time: 9 a.m. - 4 p.m.
